

Career Day!

It seems that you can find Tricon Precast everywhere, from sound walls alongside Riley Fuzzel, retaining walls on 249 and barrier everywhere...but on May 21st we were at Cooper Elementary Career Day!

The fourth graders at Cooper Elementary had the opportunity to participate in career day by submitting a resume. While dressed in professional attire they were then interviewed by their teachers and when selected the lucky few were able to participate in learning about several different career options. The careers represented there were; the Police force, Fire Department, Law, Engineering, Veterinary Medicine, Healthcare and Construction (that's US!!)

Tricon Precast's very own Dirk Franz and Jaime Garcia discussed an exciting career in precast concrete ! They explained how concrete is used to make things they see everyday, such as bridges, sound walls, retaining walls and barriers.....OH MY!! They also mentioned how each day is never the same , it is always filled with new and exciting challenges.

Dirk explained the type of education that would be helpful in this career path and Jaime demonstrated the process of making concrete.

If you ask me, I think Tricon has a few new team members!!
Good Job Gentlemen!
